HANDMADE WOOL NAPPIES

Useful tips for everyday use and a checklist of things you really need

Three practical tips for everyday use

1. Wool is self-cleaning – often, airing is enough! Only wash when truly soiled, and remember to re-lanolise.
2. You don't need dozens of nappies. 4–6 wool covers and 20–25 absorbent inserts is usually enough.
3. Choose organic cotton, hemp, and merino wool – great for your baby and planet alike.

“Wool nappies may feel unfamiliar at first, but they're incredibly forgiving once you get started. These small changes – like airing instead of washing or simplifying your stash – make everyday napping easier, gentler on your baby's skin, and better for the planet. It's not about doing it perfectly; it's about finding what works for you.

Checklist — What you really need

With just a few key items, you're fully equipped for a simple and sustainable nappy routine. Wool covers paired with absorbent inserts create a natural system that works day and night. Focus on versatile pieces, and you'll find that less really is more – both for your baby and your peace of mind.

important tip

Choose inserts that suit your baby's needs – for example, use fast-absorbing cotton during the day and long-lasting hemp at night. The right combination can prevent leaks and make your routine stress-free.

- 4–6 wool covers
  - 20–25 absorbent inserts (e.g. flats, prefolds, muslins)
  - 2 wool care products (lanolin, gentle wool wash)
  - 1 wet bag for at home or on the go
  - 5–6 boosters for extra absorbency (e.g. hemp/cotton)
  - 1 mat for changing
  - Optional: stay-dry liners (if needed)
